

ML Challenge: Data Collection

- Due Feb 2 at 10p.m.
- Points 1
- Questions 40
- Available Jan 12 at 12a.m. - Feb 6 at 11:59p.m.
- Time Limit None

Instructions

Your task for the ML challenge is to predict which city a person is thinking about, given answers to some questions about the person's perception of the city.

In the Data Collection phase, you will answer several questions about some of the most famous cities in the world. Keep in mind that the questions are supposed to be subjective, open-ended, and hopefully fun! This way, the machine learning algorithms you develop will be able to predict which city a set of answers is talking about, but not too easily.

Make sure that:

1. you complete a survey for each of the four cities.
2. put some thought into your answers. Remember, these responses will be part of the data you and your classmates use in the final project.

We will pool together your answers and share them with you, so that you can use the data to train your model.
